SUMMARY

Freelance full-stack developer who takes real business systems from first client conversation through to live deployment — school portals, hotel platforms, e-commerce stores, and more. Delivers secure, production-grade systems independently, and also teaches web development, having mentored 1,200+ students through structured programming courses. Comfortable owning scope, timeline, and communication end to end.

EXPERIENCE

Full-Stack Developer — Freelance · Running Jack ICT Academy

2022 – Present

- Scoped, designed, and delivered production-grade business systems end to end for real clients, including school portals, hotel management systems, and e-commerce platforms
- Managed full project lifecycles independently: requirements gathering, architecture, development, payment integration (Paystack), and deployment
- Delivered ongoing maintenance and security hardening (CSRF, rate limiting, SSL) for live, in-use client systems
- Taught structured web development courses to 1,200+ students while continuing to ship client work

PROJECTS

School Management System (EduPortal)

A production multi-school SaaS delivered and maintained as an ongoing client engagement.

Next.jsNode.jsPostgreSQLPaystack

- Delivered a live, in-use SaaS platform serving multiple schools from a single client engagement
- Handled the full relationship: requirements, architecture, delivery, and ongoing support
- Integrated Paystack payments and role-based dashboards based on client and end-user needs

Demonstrates: the ability to win, deliver, and maintain a real freelance client relationship

Hotel Management System (StayEase)

A live hotel management system delivered for an active hospitality business.

PHPMySQLPaystack

- Delivered a complete booking and guest-management system for a real, operating hotel client
- Integrated Paystack payments into the booking flow based on client requirements
- Continues to support and maintain the system in production

Demonstrates: consistent, reliable delivery for real freelance clients across industries
